

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA)

A federal law that includes a section on administrative simplification requiring standardization of electronic data interchanges and greater protection of confidentiality and security of health data.