

Study Indicator

A tool used to measure or gauge, over time, the performance of functions or goals of an individual, organization or service.